MORETON CAPITAL MARKETS, LLC
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2017

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNT POLICIES

a. Business

Moreton Capital Markets, LLC (a Utah Limited Liability Company) was formed in 2004 under the laws of the state of Utah. The Company is governed by the Operating Agreement of Moreton Capital Markets, LLC dated March 1, 2016. The Operating Agreement provides that the Company is to terminate on December 31, 2054 unless terminated earlier in accordance with the terms of the Operating Agreement.

According to the terms of the Operating Agreement, after the initial contributions are made, members have no further obligation to contribute additional amounts of capital to the Company, unless otherwise approved by the members. In addition, the liability of the members of the Company is limited to the members' equity.

The Company began operations as a securities broker dealer in 2004. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). The Company's business is principally focused on the purchase and sale of investment grade fixed income securities to institutional clients, the company also has a limited sharing of commissions with two other FINRA member firms for the referral of customers for mutual funds and variable annuity insurance products. In December of 2015 the Company filed a new continuing member application with FINRA and was approved to be a trading broker dealer clearing through RBC correspondent services. The company holds no securities inventory. The Company operates in the state of Utah and has securities transactions with customers within Utah and numerous other states where the Company is registered.

b. Revenue Recognition

Commission revenue is recorded in the accounts on a settle date basis, which is the day the transaction is executed. Commission revenue is transferred by RBC to the company operating account every 30 days usually on the third business day of the new month. Fees are recorded when earned and transactions have been fully consummated.

c. Customer Security Transactions

The Company does not handle customer funds or securities and is exempt from the provisions of the Customer Protection Rule (Rule 15c3-3).

d. Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid cash investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company has entered into an agreement with RBC Correspondent Services as a clearing firm for future trading activity. The agreement requires a minimum clearing deposit balance of $50,000. As of December 31, 2017 a balance of $49,980 was classified as restricted cash. The shortage of $20 was due to an RBC error and will be corrected with an adjustment in February 2018.

e. Management Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and prevailing industry practices requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

f. Income Taxes

The Company is taxed as a partnership for federal and state income tax purposes, and therefore no provision for income taxes has been recognized in the financial statements. Income of the Company is allocated to the members based upon their ownership percentage and reported on their respective individual income tax returns. Interest and penalties would also be shared by the members based on their ownership percentage.

Management has evaluated the tax positions by the Company and concluded that the Company has taken no uncertain tax positions that require adjustment to the financial statements to comply with the provisions of ASC 740. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to income tax examinations by the U.S. federal, state or local tax authorities for the tax years prior to 2012.

g. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amount reflected in the statement of financial condition for cash and cash equivalents approximate fair value due to the short maturities of those instruments.

2. COMMISSIONS RECEIVABLE

Commissions receivable represent amounts due from our clearing agent, RBC, for commissions and revenue earned through December 31, 2017. Amounts received after year end, for services of the prior year, were classified as commissions receivable. Amounts classified as commissions receivable were received in the subsequent month, therefore, an allowance for doubtful accounts was not considered necessary.

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

A Lease/Office Services Agreement is in place with Moreton & Company. The monthly rent payment for the Salt Lake City office is $1,827 and the monthly rent for the Denver office is $1,244, for a total of $3,071.

Some employees of Moreton Asset Management are also registered with Moreton Capital Markets and may provide some services, including some supervisory functions.

4. NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

As a broker dealer, the Company is subject to the uniform net capital rule adopted and administered by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The rule requires maintenance of minimum net capital and prohibits a broker dealer from engaging in securities transactions at a time when its net capital is less than the required minimum, as those terms are defined by the rule. At December 31, 2017, the Company's net capital was $525,363 which was $519,293 in excess of the $6,070 minimum required.

5. RISK MANAGEMENT

Transactions involving financial instruments involve varying degrees of market, credit and operating risk. The Company monitors its exposure to risk on a regular basis.

Market Risk

The Company does not invest in securities for its own account and, therefore is not directly subject to market risk.

Credit Risk

Concentrations of credit risk that arise from financial instruments exist for groups of counterparties when they have similar economic characteristics that would cause their ability to meet obligations to be similarly affected by economic, industry or geographic factors.

Operating Risk

Operating risk focuses on the Company's ability to accumulate, process, and communicate information necessary to conduct its daily operations. Deficiencies in technology, financial systems and controls, and losses attributed to operational problems all pose potential operating risks. In order to mitigate these risks, the Company has established and maintains an internal control environment which incorporates various control mechanisms throughout the organization. In addition, the Company periodically monitors its technological needs and makes changes as deemed appropriate.

6. CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

The Company currently maintains its bank accounts at one financial institution. Accounts at an institution are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000. At December 31, 2017, the Company had two accounts that together exceed the FDIC insured amount by $249,446.

7. SIGNIFICANT BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS

As discussed in note 1d, the Company's has entered into a clearing relationship with RBC correspondent services. The Company also shares commissions with another FINRA member firm for the referral of customers for mutual funds and variable annuity insurance products. Loss or impairment to any of those business relationships may negatively impact the Company's results of operations.

8. PREFERRED OWNERSHIP

William R. Moreton has contributed $150,000 towards the capital of the firm, which is classified as preferred equity. In liquidation event, Mr. Moreton's $150K contribution has priority over other owners' equity, and no dividends are to be paid to other owners until the $150,000 preferred equity has been repurchased by the Company. The Company has the option to repurchase preferred shares at any time.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management has evaluated subsequent events through February 20, 2018, the date on which the financial statements were available to be issued, and has determined there are no additional subsequent events to be reported.
